TOP 5 REASONS we love mexico

#1 HISTORY & CULTURE

"Mexico is well-known for its many ancient Mayan ruins. There are so many of them in the Yucatan! Learning history behind these ruins and of the ancient Mayan civilization fascinate me, and the ruins are a huge reason why I love and continue to return to Mexico."

#2 BEACHES

"You know why you go to Mexico! The beautiful, turquoise water, palm tree-lined, white sand beaches! You are absolutely spoiled for choice with picturesque, holiday brochure-worthy beaches in Mexico. On either coast! Everyone you ask will have a different favorite beach and for very different reasons."

#3 THINGS TO DO

"Visiting the vibrant local markets in Tulum and Valladolid was one of my favourite things to do in Mexico. The markets are colourful and a hub of activity. And swimming in the cenotes should be a must on your list of things to do in the Yucatan! They are all so unique and beautiful in their own ways, so I suggest visiting more than one to see the variety."

#4 FOOD!

"Resorts employ some of the highest caliber cooks in Mexico, but one of my favorite things is while they accommodate all tastes there is almost always a Mexican station with authentic cuisine like tamales, or tacos with handmade tortillas. And if you're the adventurous type the street food you find outside the resort can't be beat."

#5 THE PEOPLE

"The majority of the locals that I interacted with in Mexico were super friendly, warm, welcoming and helpful. And there is one thing you notice among all of them is their love for their country."
